New Wifi Access Points Installed Means Increased Outside Coverage and Stronger Signal

The library was able to replace its aging wifi access points inside and outside of the building thanks to a grant it received. This means more coverage in our parking lot, and a stronger, more stable signal. In the diagram, the red area shows the old range of the wifi signal; the yellow shows the new range. Our wifi is on 24/7, and no password is required for the "MPLD Patron" network.

Funding for this grant was awarded by the Illinois State Library, a Department of the Office of Secretary of State, using funds provided by the U.S. Institute of Museum and Library Services, under the provisions of the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act.

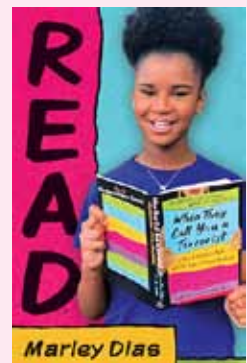

September is National Library Card Signup Month!

Marley Dias, founder of #1000BlackGirlBooks, author and executive producer, is honorary chair of this year's Library Card Sign-Up Month. This September, Dias will join the American Library Association (ALA) and libraries nationwide in promoting the power of a library card.

Dias will remind everyone that signing up for a library card provides access to technology, multimedia content and educational programming that transforms lives and strengthens communities. "A library card is the ticket you need to travel across the globe. It allows you to experience stories that can connect you to diverse and empowering experiences," said Dias.

Don't have a library card? It's easy at our Checkout Desk. Bring a photo ID and something else with your current address on it.

From the Director's Desk

This year has been eventful and challenging for all of us. Yet, despite all that was going on globally, the Library has continued to serve our community with our core services, just in different ways. Based on your feedback, we met and exceeded many of your expectations this past year, and hope that new and returning patrons have found ways the Library can work for them.

This summer, we have seen a resurgence of patrons visiting the Library. Throughout the past 17 months, the Library has offered various service models in response to the pandemic. Still, one of the most enjoyable service models is interacting with patrons in person, and we are so glad to see that many of you agree. While the Library has opened up completely, we have learned that many new services introduced during the pandemic have been welcome by you. The Library's goal is to fit into your lives seamlessly, and throughout this, we have learned many new ways to do that.

This newsletter marks the return of in-person programming at the Library! Throughout the pandemic, Library staff has entertained and informed you through virtual programming. Through Zoom, Facebook Live, and recorded YouTube Videos, you have invited us into your homes to share experiences, and we cannot wait to have you back at the Library. While many of you are looking forward to being back in person, we know that many prefer the option to attend programming virtually or on your own time, and the Library hears you. We will continue to offer some virtual and hybrid programs going forward, so continue to check out our online Events Calendar and newsletters for programs offered in various formats.

Curbside service was the way the world operated for many months, and the Library was no different. However, a service that was born out of necessity has become a time-saving convenience for many. Have a hold to pick up or know exactly what you need? Call, chat, or email us to select your materials and pre-arrange a time to pick up materials during Library hours. Then, when you arrive at the Library, you'll park in a designated spot, and your materials will be delivered right to you!

In this newsletter, you will learn more about the expansion of our Wireless Network to accommodate more patrons who connect to our WiFi outside of the building and after regular Library hours.

September is National Library Card Sign-Up Month and it is the perfect time to visit the Library for the first time or to rediscover all we have to offer. Libraries offer everything from early literacy programs to technology classes to materials in various formats that will expand your world. Whether you visit us in person or use our virtual services from the comfort of your home, we hope you'll take advantage of all that is available to you at the McHenry Public Library.
